KOMARAPALAYAM
BEST PRACTICE 2020-2021

Best practice 1: Design Thinking

Title: Design Thinking

Objective of the practice: To integrate the interests of participants through group discussions to find solutions for the existing problems as a strategic tool for academic, administrative and business transformations.

The context: To offer e-platforms for the contemporary solutions for the problems identified by the participants.

The practice: To carry out the design thinking pentagon strategy i.e. empathize, define, ideate, prototype and test through online mode.

Evidence of success:

Each team took problems and found solutions after online-brainstorming.

Problems encountered and Resources required: The design methodology was not clearly understood by the students initially.

Best practice 2: Journal Club

Title: Journal Club

Objective of the practice: To review and disseminate about the innovations in different disciplines/sectors/fields by the students as the knowledge-sharing practice.

The context: To motivate the practice of self-dependency and comprehensive learning.

The Practice: To assemble to share the assimilated ideas on regular basis.

Evidence of success:

To take up their project works, entrepreneurships, corporate and bureaucratic positions, policy making and implementation platforms.

Problems encountered and Resources required:

Few online-sessions were not effective being presenters' unpreparedness.

To encounter these, the presenters were asked at least a day before their presentation.
